

ROLF C. HAGEN (UK) LTD. PRESS RELEASE

Give your Cat a sense of overall wellbeing with the Catit Senses Water Fountain

Rolf C. Hagen have now launched their new Catit Senses Water Fountain, an advanced automated drinking system that filters, purifies and circulates water on a continuous basis.

Like people, cats need water to survive and it is imperative they are encouraged to replenish their reserves in order to maintain good health and well being.

Veterinarian recommended, the Water Fountain encourages cats to drink more water which can help proper kidney function and to combat occurrences of crystal formation and urinary diseases.

The fountain includes a water softening filter that softens hard water by removing excess calcium and magnesium, typically found in tap water, to help maintain a healthy lower urinary tract. The fountain's surface is designed to retain water inside the unit while your cat drinks.

The Water Fountain is much more inviting to pets than a traditional bowl of water and fulfils your pet's need for a continuous supply of clean, fresh drinking water. Re-circulating water in this way increases oxygenation providing the fresh tasting, cool, filtered water that cats love.
